4. GREEN HOMES CHALLENGE REGISTRATION (REQUIRED) & POWER SAVER RETROFIT

(a) The REP is a special initiative of the Green Homes Challenge, a program that helps residents reduce electricity and utility bills, adopt environmentally friendly practices, and use renewable energy. To receive a new refrigerator, you must register with the Green Homes Challenge at www.FrederickGreenChallenge.org. If you need assistance, or do not have internet access, contact Suzanne Cliber at 301.600.7414 or Scliber@FrederickCountyMD.gov.

- ☐ I have registered with www.FrederickGreenChallenge.org (Required)
- ☐ I need assistance with registering. Please contact me.

(b) OSER will be offering a Power Saver Retrofit program to low- and moderate-income households in 2014. This program can provide up to $5,000 in home energy efficiency improvements for both homeowners and property owners, or up to $8,000 if HVAC replacement is needed.

- ☐ I am interested in being contacted about the Power Saver Retrofit program. (Optional)

5. POTOMAC EDISON REBATE WAIVER (SIGNATURE REQUIRED FOR POTOMAC EDISON CUSTOMERS)

If you were to purchase your own new Energy Star® refrigerator, you would be eligible for up to a $150 Potomac Edison rebate to help offset the cost of your purchase. If, after purchasing your new refrigerator, you recycled your old working refrigerator through Potomac Edison's Appliance Recycling Program, you would be eligible for up to a $50 rebate.

Because you will receive a free refrigerator through the Refrigerator Exchange Program, and will be relinquishing your existing refrigerator in exchange for the new refrigerator, these rebates do not apply. These rebates will instead be reinvested in Frederick County's Refrigerator Exchange Program so that additional low- and moderate-income households in Frederick County can receive new Energy Star refrigerators.

Please sign below to indicate that you understand and accept that you will not be receiving rebates for your new free Energy Star refrigerator or your recycled refrigerator.

How to Determine the Size of your Current Refrigerator

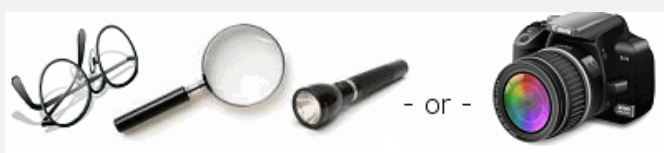

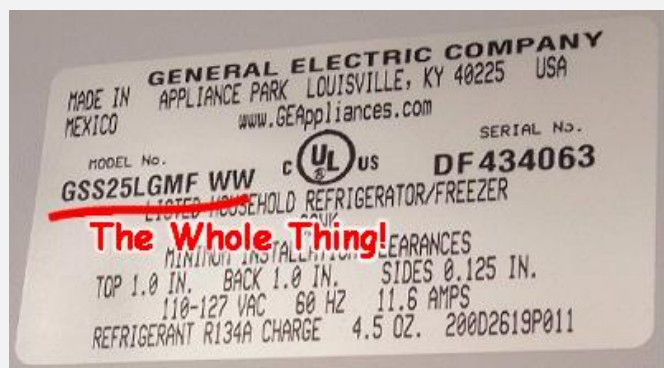

Refrigerator sizes are the interior volume measured in cubic feet. The size reflects the total volume of the of both the refrigerator compartment and the freezer compartment.

Open the doors of your refrigerator and freezer compartment

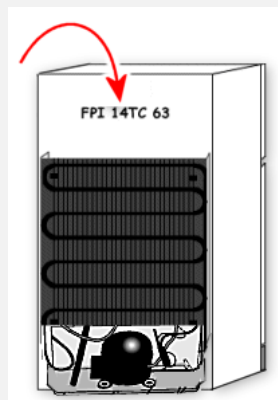

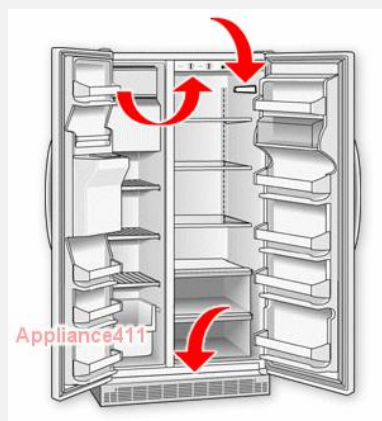

- For the refrigerator compartment: Using inches, measure the width (W) of the opening in inches, then the height (H), then to get the depth (D), measure the distance from the back wall of the fridge to the front. Divide each number by 12 to convert inches to feet. Then multiply: $H \times W \times D = \text{Volume in Cubic Feet}$.
- Do the same thing for the freezer compartment.
- Add the volume of the refrigerator and freezer together to get the size of your refrigerator in cubic feet.

Determining and Documenting Your Refrigerator's Age

To participate in the REP your, or your tenant's, refrigerator must be at least 12 years old (2001 model or older). You can determine your refrigerator's age by locating its Model Number and Serial Number. The label may look something like the one below and you may need some tools to see and capture it. Be sure to write down the entire Model and Serial Numbers including any letters.

Most labels can be found in one of these locations:

To determine your fridge's age, visit www.appliance411.com/service/date-code.php. Enter the Model Number and Serial Number. Click on "Date It!" then make a note of the date (or possible dates). For example:
